⊙ Aarhus, Denmark

Software engineer working on web applications, infrastructure, and DevOps at Region Midtjylland. I maintain Kubernetes clusters and build microservices for healthcare systems, focusing on security and compliance requirements.

My day-to-day involves Kubernetes, CI/CD pipelines, and API development. I collaborate with cross-functional teams to define and implement innovative solutions and involve using Go, Rust, TypeScript, Kotlin, and Java.

Experience & Education

💼 DevOps Engineer @ Region Midtjylland   September 2024 – Present

Maintain production Kubernetes clusters for healthcare microservices. Build automation tools in Go, Rust & TypeScript. Handle on-call incident response and develop GDPR-compliant APIs for clinical systems.

💼 Software Developer @ Region Midtjylland   May 2023 – September 2024

Built web applications for clinicians using TypeScript and Java Spring Boot. Implemented security features for healthcare compliance and developed RESTful APIs for clinical workflows.

🎓 Web Developer Education @ Viden Djurs   August 2020 – November 2022

Full-stack web development education covering programming fundamentals, API design, and modern web technologies.

Open Source Projects

I enjoy improving developer workflows and contributing to open source projects with 6+ open source projects, mostly developer tools and TypeScript libraries.

@hono/zod-openapi

github.com/honojs/middleware

Helped to eliminate some issues with basePath and pathPrefix in the OpenAPI generation.
